President's Message

Raiford Peacock

It seems like only yesterday that I became President of the GSSDA. I can tell you with certainty that it is easier to make suggestions and recommendations from the sidelines than to be the one in the driver's seat. With hands on the steering wheel and control of the accelerator, a driver can set the direction and speed but without functioning brakes, disaster is likely. Such is the case with most any organization and GSSDA is no exception. Without the wisdom of an informed Board and the involved membership, progress is limited.

With this in mind, I am asking that YOU get involved. Contact me or a Board member with your comments and ideas. Join your local square dance club and get involved – benefit from participation in square dancing. The social, physical and mental benefits are well documented.

Visit GSSDA member clubs and don't be a "secret square dancer". Wear your colorful square dance attire with pride, and when people notice, seize the opportunity to tell them about the activity you love. Have your "elevator speech" ready. (A one minute, two sentence explanation of the benefits of square dancing and how much you enjoy the activity.) Answer their questions and be enthusiastic. Enthusiasm is contagious.
